

DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION – FACTORS FOR SUCCESS

As digitisation moves from innovation to core competency and becomes a major revenue generator, CIOs have to rethink their approach and toolkit. As the leader of digital innovation and transformation how can you drive the capacity and willingness to change and shift cultures to ensure your organisation is designed effectively, and aligned to the digital strategy?

At our two part breakfast seminar you will have the opportunity to explore these digital leadership challenges with other CIO professionals; be exposed to themes and ideas that could be critical in your own strategic thinking; understand current approaches and technologies that are benefiting organisations to deliver change more effectively than ever before.

Breakfast seminar 1: 21st November 2016

The real business transformation challenges to a digital enabled organisation / business. Facilitated discussion.

Breakfast seminar 2: 17th January 2017

Reviewing critical challenges in the context of an integrated transformation delivery approach with associated enabling technologies designed to optimise speed and success.

The sessions will be facilitated by Emer Wynne, a highly experienced and qualified transformation professional. She works at C level to assure ROI by designing and leading all transformation business readiness activities to build business confidence and capability in digital transformations. Her expertise spans all elements in landing the people aspect of transformations in businesses to include the use of hard change methodologies, business readiness strategies; organisation design; leadership and team development; facilitation and coaching.

The seminars will be held at our offices:

110 Bishopsgate, London, EC2N 4AY
Arrival from 7.45am to start at 8.00am, finish at 9.30am.
